

From the Back of the Room needs a Web designer!

From the Back of the Room is a film being produced here in Madison, Wisconsin. The website is completely out of date, and needs to be spruced up. The position as web designer is unpaid part time work. This position will help build the portfolio of the designer and involves a very minimal time commitment of 5 hours or less per week. The web designer will be responsible for implementing a list of modifications to the existing website, and also will need to make occasional updates to the site. Candidates will be judged on the appearance of sites they have already contributed to, and/or design samples they wish to submit. The deadline for application is rolling, but I would like to select a designer by the beginning of November. To inquire, please contact Amy at:
