Internship @ HealthMyne

HealthMyne, a Madison, WI-based startup, is seeking a qualified undergraduate student to work as an intern with the HealthMyne team on exciting projects that aim at building the next generation of medical imaging software. The intern will get hands-on experience on various aspect of software development process, including design, implementation, verification and validation.

Minimum Required Skills:

- Good knowledge of Object Oriented Programming, data structures, and algorithms
- Good programming skills in one or more programming languages
- Good knowledge of Windows, Linux, or Mac Operating Systems
- Good communication skills

Additional Desired Expertise:

- Experience with software development process
- Experience with software debugging

Additional requirements:

- Candidates must be authorized to work in the U.S.

Length of the appointment: 8-10 weeks, can start any time during 2015, preferably summer 2015

Application deadline: April 15th, 2015

To Apply: Please send your resume along with the title of the position you are applying for to jobs@healthmyne.com