You have these required core competencies:

- Solid understanding of object oriented programming concepts
- Solid understanding of relational database design and querying concepts
- Excellent problem solving, coding and debugging skills
- Familiarity with version control concepts
- Proven ability to develop software in C# and/or Java
- Working experience with software engineering and design concepts

Your job will have these essential functions:

- Write well-designed, testable, efficient code
- Contribute to specifications and determination of operational feasibility
- Integrate software components into a fully-functional software system
- Implement software verification plans and quality assurance procedures
- Document and maintain software functionality and APIs
- Configure and help deploy software tools, processes and metrics
- Evolve as a subject matter expert
- Adhere to industry standards and regulations
• Embrace and help evolve our agile development practices

We hope you also have most of these skills:

• Working knowledge of NoSQL databases
• Experience with test-driven development or another test-first methodology
• Great skills with software engineering tools like Visual Studio, IntelliJ and GitHub
• Familiarity with agile software development methodologies
• Familiarity with AWS and ASP.NET

You meet these qualifications:

• BS degree in Computer Science, Engineering, Mathematics or comparable experience
• Must be able to work full time from our Madison, WI office
• Must have the ability to work for any US employer without visa sponsorship.
